SECOND ATTACK RESULTS FATALLY

Adam Eyster Recovers from Illness Early in the Day only to be Taken Sick Later, and Dies in Short Time.

Adam Eyster, of near Abbottstown, died suddenly Thursday evening at 7:50 o'clock, of a stroke of apoplexy, while sitting in a chair at his home. It was the second stroke he had sustained during the day.

Between noon and one o'clock he had gone to the home of George Strasbaugh, miller, to purchase chop and eggs. He had completed the purchase of the chop and then went to the kitchen of the Strasbaugh home to get the eggs. While in the kitchen he was suddenly stricken and fell to the floor. He was unconscious for about 15 minutes. On reviving he was removed in a team to his home by Mr. Strasbaugh. Dr. Roth of Abbottstown, attended him.

Feeling better toward evening Mr. Eyster came down stairs. He had not been long in the kitchen when he was again stricken, living only a short time after the second stroke. He was about 70 years old.

One sister, Mrs. William Butl, East Berlin, survives him.

PLAYER ACCUSED

Said to have Lifted a Watch from Shop and Sold It.

Elmer Moseley, the player who was with Chambersburg last season and is remembered here, may have to face a charge of larceny, Constable Freet, of Chambersburg, went to Hagerstown on Wednesday morning with a warrant charging Moseley with the larceny of a watch from William Seikus, a Greek bootblack, of Chambersburg. It is alleged that Moseley took a watch from the bootblack's stand and sold it. Whether or not he has as yet been arrested in Hagerstown, is not known.

Moseley was released by Chambersburg during the winter and has signed with Bert Weeden to play on Boyer's Hagerstown team. He says he is in fine shape and that his fingers on his right hand, which were broken about the middle of last season, are now all right. Moseley wants to play an outfield position.

GET PROPERTY AS WEDDING PRESENT

Many Persons Attend Ceremony at Taneytown when Miss Edna Mehring Becomes Bride of Norman Baumgardner.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. David M. Mehring, of Taneytown, was the scene on Thursday evening, of the marriage of their only daughter, Edna B. Mehring and Norman R. Baumgardner, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Baumgardner, of Keyville. The wedding march was played by Miss Elsie Strasbaugh, miller, to purchase chop and eggs. He had completed the purchase of the chop and then went to the kitchen of the Strasbaugh home to get the eggs. While in the kitchen he was suddenly stricken and fell to the floor. He was unconscious for about 15 minutes. On reviving he was removed in a team to his home by Mr. Strasbaugh. Dr. Roth of Abbottstown, attended him.

The bride wore a gown of white silk crepe de chine, trimmed in Venetian lace and draped in Georgette crepe. She carried white roses. The bridesmaid wore blue silk crepe de chine, trimmed with chiffon and carried pink carnations.

Mr. Baumgardner is a graduate of the business department of Blue Ridge College, New Windsor, Md. Since his graduation he has been a member of the firm of the Taneytown Grain & Supply Company.

Mrs. Baumgardner was the recipient of some very beautiful and useful presents, consisting of silver, cut glass, linen, aluminum ware. A deed was given the newlyweds for the property on which their new house is being built by the bride's parents.

On Friday the happy couple left for Baltimore from where they took the boat, "Somerset", to Jacksonville, Florida. On their return they will reside with the bride's parents until their new house is completed. There were about one hundred guests present from New York, Gettysburg, Carlisle, New Oxford and Littlestown.

BREAM—HARTMAN

Miss Ada B. Hartman and Filmore M. Bream, both of Biglerville, were married on Thursday at Middletown, Md., by Rev. W. A. Hartman, pastor of the Lutheran church and an uncle of the bride. The ceremony was performed at the parsonage.

CHILDREN LOSE SUIT

Court Rules they Cannot Collect for Death of Father.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company was awarded a verdict Friday by direction of the York County court in the suit brought against it by the heirs of Jacob H. Miller for damages for his death in a collision at the Emigsville grade crossing on October 23 last. The victory of the railroad company was not by any reason or any finding of the court or jury as to the absence of negligence but because of the lack of authority in the individual children of Jacob H. Miller to maintain a suit for damages for his death. Under the act of assembly and decisions of the courts thereunder, Judge Wanner ruled that the suit could not be brought by the children.

It appears that Mrs. Miller, as widow, was the one entitled to bring the suit. But though she also was a victim, that right did not pass to her children.

There yet remains on the list a suit by the Miller children for damages for the death of their mother, arising out of the same collision. The trial of this suit was continued. It is said to be doubtful if a suit can be legally brought under the circumstances.

GRANTED SPECIAL FUNERAL TRAIN

After Relatives Accompanying Body of Late Mrs. Clabaugh are Delayed by Wreck. Services at Taneytown on Friday.

After having been delayed four hours by the big passenger train wreck on the Pennsylvania Railroad in Juniata county late Thursday night, the funeral party bringing the remains of the late Mrs. George Clabaugh from Omaha, Nebraska, to Taneytown arrived at the latter place Friday afternoon in time to hold the services at the appointed hour.

This was accomplished by the Pennsylvania Railroad granting them a special train from York, after they had missed a connection with the usual morning train. A special crew was summoned from Harrisburg and averted the necessity of the party having to remain in York until after noon and postponing the funeral until to-day.

Mrs. Clabaugh's death occurred last Monday in Omaha after an extended illness. Her maiden name was Miss Annie Birnie and she was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Rogers Birnie, of Taneytown. She removed to Omaha, on her marriage to Mr. Clabaugh, a brother of the late Judge H. M. Clabaugh. She leaves her husband and one daughter, Mrs. Nellie Carpenter.

She also leaves the following brothers and sisters, Dr. Clotworthy Birnie, George H. Birnie, and Col. Rogers Birnie; Mrs. Bessie Annan and Miss Amelia H. Birnie. Mrs. Annan was with her during her last illness.

The funeral services were held Friday afternoon from the home of Dr. Birnie, and further services and interment were held at Piney Creek Presbyterian church.

VANDALS SMASH THREE WAGONS

Reduce them to Kindling Wood during the Night. Discovery not Made until the Following Morning, Harsh Words.

Some person or persons entered the coal yard of the White Pine Sanatorium at Mont Alto park early Friday morning and completely demolished three coal wagons stored there. The wagons belonged to Jacob Gluck, H. E. Trostle, and W. E. Gossett.

The vandals not only chopped up the beds of the wagons but the spokes out of the wheels, leaving nothing but piles of kindling wood and metal scrap.

The crime was discovered early in the morning by V. C. Kline, station agent at Mont Alto, who goes to the park in the mornings to take the numbers of cars. Mr. Kline immediately notified the authorities.

It seems that there is quite a spirit of jealousy and vindictiveness abroad in that section against those who are favored with the hauling. Anonymous notes have been received threatening trouble to the favored draymen. Other minor work of the sort has occurred, but the performance of Friday morning, according to the "Waynesboro Herald", "exceeds all preconceived limits and no one dreamed that there were outlaws of sufficient savagery and degeneracy in the community to carry out a fiendish plot like this. If the perpetrators can be located it is an easy bet that they will get the full extent of the law and be forever branded as moral lepers and outcasts."

TWO INJURED

Automobile Accident and Long Fall Cause of Trouble.

Tilman Hollinger, residing near Dillsburg, sustained a number of injuries about his body Friday evening when the touring car owned and driven by Ira Heikes, dashed into a fence. Mr. Heikes, however, escaped serious injury.

The accident occurred on the macadamized road between Dillsburg and Wellsboro, both men being on their way to the latter borough on business. It was stated that the automobile was being driven at an excessive rate of speed, which caused the driver to lose control and then it dashed into a fence. The automobile was badly damaged. Both men were able to get to Dillsburg, where surgical aid was rendered by Dr. William Crawford. Their injuries, however, are not serious.

William Weaver, Dillsburg, is in a serious condition as the result of a fall of more than twelve feet from the barn floor on the farm of Mr. rett Coover, near Dillsburg, Friday afternoon. Mr. Weaver was assisting Coover in baling hay when the accident took place. A slender rope on which Mr. Weaver was pulling tore and caused him to fall.

He sustained a number of fractured ribs and also numerous abrasions about the left side of his body. The injured man, who is aged about seventy years, was taken to the office of a physician, shortly after the accident occurred.

MUST ALL FILE THEIR CLAIMS

Receivers of Carroll County Mutual Insurance Concern Demand that they be Submitted within Next Few Weeks.

Acting under an order of the circuit court for Carroll County, Messrs. Francis Neal Parke and Charles O. Clemson, attorneys, receivers of the Grangers' Mutual Fire and Storm Insurance Company of Carroll County, are making every effort to reach the policy-holders of the insurance company to advise them that, under the court's order, it is necessary that their claims, with affidavit attached, be filed with the clerk of the circuit court at Westminster, on or before April third.

This means those persons who had filed their claims with the officers of the insurance company before the receivers were appointed in July, 1915, must again file their claims with the clerk of the court. Many persons who had met with losses and had filed their claims with the company, seem to be under the impression that it is not necessary for them to file claims now.

After it is known what claims there are against the company, the receivers will obtain an order of court, authorizing them to make an assessment against the policy-holders and afterwards a distribution will be made to those persons whose claims for losses have been filed.

A mistaken impression exists with many of the policy-holders in thinking that they are not liable for the losses incurred and this may account for the reluctance to file their claims. This was a mutual company and the policy holders are in the same position as a number of persons who have signed a note; they are each liable for their pro rata share of the insurance. Up to this date, the only claims that have been filed with the receivers are those of certain persons in Carroll and Frederick counties but not one-third of the claims proper to be filed according to the claims heretofore made of the company, have been filed with the receivers.

In Baltimore, Howard and Montgomery counties there are hundreds of policy-holders and many of them suffered losses, but none of these policy-holders has so far filed his claim with the receivers. All of these persons are liable to lose their right to recover for their losses and yet are obliged to pay their pro rata share of the assessment.

Over 1500 farmers in Carroll, Frederick, Montgomery, Howard and Baltimore counties are policy-holders in this company and are directly interested in this matter.

THE LAST SALE Of The Spring Season is scheduled for April 8, a little more than a month from now.

Advertising for it should appear at once—for this reason: If your neighbor, living within several miles, wants to buy a piece of machinery this Spring and he doesn't know what you are going to sell he will go to a sale where he has seen it advertised. He won't take the chance of waiting for your sale. If he does see the article he desires advertised, he in all probability, will wait for your sale. His bid will more than pay for this advertising.

This is but one case, as a rule there are three or four similar instances occurring at each sale—sometimes more. There is no necessity for the man having sale the last of March to advertise continuously until the date of sale, but his advertisement should be prepared and appear at least once without delay.

The secret of a good sale is good advertising. The Times will help you prepare your advertising and advise you honestly what you need. We are not here to take your money but to be of service. In addition to the service our experience enables us to give, we offer the advantage of 500 Cards free if your advertising amounts to $5.00 or over.

If your Sale has not been Advertised.

TO GET VILLA DEAD OR ALIVE

U. S. Troops Are Ordered
Into Mexico.

GEN. FUNSTON IN COMMAND

"To Capture or Kill" Are Instructions to War Department—Carranza Notified, But Permission Not Awaited.

Washington, March 11.—President Wilson ordered American troops to be sent over the Mexican border to capture or kill Francisco Villa and his army of bandits who on Thursday attacked Columbus, N. M., and killed seventeen Americans.

Major General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the army, announced that the expedition would consist of not less than 5000 men, all of whom are available on the border, under Major General Frederick Funston.

The formal orders for the move have been issued.

Villa has been reported as having taken refuge in the mountains of Chihuahua state, fifteen miles south of the border, although an unconfirmed report from Columbus said he was heading back toward that town.

In a report General Funston told the war department he had accurate information that Villa had 3000 troops with him, that Carranza troops in Villa's vicinity had fled, and that he advised against frittering away the time of the army guarding small towns and thus give Villa opportunity to escape. He advised that the plans of the army for Villa's capture be surrounded with secrecy.

In its present stage, the president's order does not mean armed intervention in Mexico. It provides for a punitive expedition to deal with lawlessness over which the Carranza government has no control.

The following statement was issued at the White House:

"An adequate force will be sent at once in pursuit of Villa with the single object of capturing him and putting a stop to his forays.

"This can be done, and will be done, in entirely friendly aid of the constituted authorities in Mexico and with scrupulous respect for the sovereignty of that republic."

It was said at the White House in addition that the American government wants Villa dead or alive and that no steps will be neglected to carry out that object.

Secretary of War Baker made the following announcement:

"General Scott was in communication with General Funston, and advised him of the action of the president. He was requested to get ready to send his men into Mexico at once.

"The detailed orders now are being worked out. While General Funston will have a free hand in disposing of the details the general plan of campaign will be worked out by the general staff.

"General Scott is in touch with the entire Mexican border and there will be no further outrages against American life and property. Villa will be taken, dead or alive."

No move will be made by the navy for the present. Virtually the entire Atlantic fleet is within two days' sail of the Mexican coast, and should Carranza's forces be unable to protect Americans or other foreign subjects in case of disturbances, the navy will be pressed into service immediately. This was stated authoritatively at the navy department.

General Scott said the necessity of providing even a stronger force for the border than it now has while the American troops are operating in Mexico, would necessitate using some troops not now there for the punitive expedition. They probably will be ordered from other posts. No plans have been made so far as to known for use of the national guard.

Approximately 200 Mexicans were killed in the battle Thursday, according to estimates of army officials.

Major Frank Tompkins, of the Thirtieth Cavalry, in command of the troops that drove Villa and his bandits across the border, said that Villa's seventy-five Mexican dead found on the Mexican side were either burned or buried.

General Funston telegraphed, urging utmost secrecy of the army's plans. The border is honeycombed with Mexican spies, and it was feared that the expedition would be pushed to success by keeping Villa and his men ignorant of its movements. It is possible that no correspondents will be permitted to accompany the columns. At any rate a strict censorship will be imposed.

General Carranza, in a telegram to the state department, expressed regret at the Columbus massacre, but made no comment on the proposal of sending American troops to hunt down the bandits. Eliseo Arredondo, his ambassador here, was officially informed of the American government's action. He only replied that he would communicate with his chief. He has previously expressed the personal opinion that the movement would not be opposed.

State department officials declined to say what their attitude would be.

GENERAL FUNSTON

Will Command U. S. Troops Ordered to Kill or Capture Villa.

If General Carranza took a hostile position. They said the United States would settle that question when it arose. If an offer of co-operation of Carranza troops is made, they said it could hardly be refused.

General Carranza ordered 5000 troops from various garrisons to move upon the Villa forces. The effect of their advance probably would be to keep the Villa bandits near the border.

FUNSTON SAYS CARRANZA IS WEAK

Suggests Relentless Pursuit of Villa Forces.

Washington, March 11.—Major General Funston, in command of the American forces along the Mexican border, in a remarkable report to the war department, offers to personally command the expedition into Mexico in his despatch follows:

"It is the opinion of Colonels Dodd and Shuman, in which I concur, that unless Villa is relentlessly pursued and his forces scattered he will continue raids. As troops of Mexican government are accomplishing nothing and as he can consequently make his preparations and contrivances with out being disturbed, he can strike at any point on the border, we being unable to obtain advance information as to his whereabouts.

"If we fritter away the whole command guarding towns, ranches and railroads it will accomplish nothing if he can find safe refuge across the line after every raid. Although probably not more than 1000 took part in Columbus raid, he is believed to have about 3000. Even if he should not continue raids he has entered on a policy of merciless killing of Americans in Mexico.

"To show apathy and gross inefficiency of Mexican government troops, an American woman held prisoner by Villa for nine days, but who escaped in Columbus fight, states that during all that time he was undisturbed at no great distance from border, collecting a force of about 3000. The few Carranza troops in the region fled, losing all contact with him and not even informing us as to his whereabouts.

"If it is proposed to take action suggested, I recommend no information be given out in order that we may stand some chance of surprising."

"If desired, I shall personally command. It would be desirable to replace as soon as possible from available cavalry in the United States the cavalry taken from the border."

Garrison Offers Services.

Washington, March 11.—Former Secretary of War Garrison came to Washington and called at the war department for a conference with his successor, Secretary Baker. Mr. Garrison offered his services to the administration in the emergency, and is expected to remain to assist Mr. Baker, for the present at least.

Carranza Suppresses News.

Mexico City, March 11.—General Carranza does not care to make a statement in regard to the situation resulting from the raid of Columbus, N. M. A rigid censorship has been imposed. Newspapers are printing nothing of the raid and the public has not been advised of it.

200,000 DEAD OR INJURED

Teutons Continue Violent Bombardment of Foe's Defenses—Lull in Infantry Fighting.

London, March 11.—A momentary lull in the desperate infantry fighting about Verdun is reported from Paris.

The Germans have not again attacked on either bank of the Meuse, it is announced, but violent bombardment of the defenses continues, indicating that the respite probably is to be brief.

Where the next German heavy blow will fall military commentators do not attempt to predict. Recent shifting of attack from the region of Bethincourt and Goose Hill to the scarred battle grounds of Douaumont and Vaux, the latter five miles northeast of Verdun, came with seeming unexpectedness, and, according to Berlin, achieved substantial results in the region of Vaux.

An official statement from Paris, however, emphatically contradicts the German claim to the capture of the fort and village of Vaux. The fort was not even attacked, the war office asserts, and while German infantry did succeed in entering Vaux, they were subsequently driven out, the village remaining in French hands.

Similarly, Paris declares the greater part of Corbeaux (Crows) wood, where desperate fighting has been taking place, remains for the greater part in French hands, despite German intimations to the contrary.

The German war office at Berlin admitted that the French had regained a foothold in the fort of Vaux. At the same time the capture of the Abelain wood, west of Douaumont, by the Germans was announced by German army headquarters.

Both French and Germans agree the crisis is at hand in the great battle. The struggle, which is entering its nineteenth day, is expected to increase in fury, and with the next forty-eight hours possibly reach a climax.

More than 200,000 men have been killed or wounded in the eighteen days of battle. The German losses are estimated at 125,000. Major Morait, the German critic, places the French casualties at 75,000 to 80,000.

The situation at Verdun is regarded as much better from the French viewpoint as a result of Thursday's fighting. The Paris public is greatly cheered by reports of successful resistance on the part of the defenders of the fortress. Notwithstanding an enormous expenditure of ammunition and untold sacrifice of life, the Germans have failed to bend the French line.

The inference drawn is that the German wave has advanced as far as is in its power without further waste on a large scale, which the German general staff hesitates to make with four army corps (120,000 men) already put out of action in the struggle of eighteen days.

Exhausted by three days of violent efforts, the assailants called a rest to replenish depleted ranks of infantry. The French took advantage of the respite to sweep out the Germans still remaining in Corbeaux (Crows) wood and in this effort was almost successful.

TREBIZOND NEAR FALL

Cavalry Reach Outskirts, Rout Turks
German Consul Quits.

Petrograd, March 11.—Cavalry detachments preceding the Russian army marching on Trebizond have driven back Turkish forces in several skirmishes on the outskirts of the city, it was announced.

The main Russian body has passed the Kalapattanos river at Solaky and are twenty-seven miles from Trebizond.

Fall of Trebizond Imminent.

Washington, March 11.—Russian troops have landed on the Black sea coast of Asiatic Turkey and the occupation of Trebizond is imminent, according to a despatch received from the American embassy at Constantinople.

The state department was also advised that the American consul at Trebizond has taken over the archives of the German consulate there, the German consul having left.

To Ignore T. R.'s Request.

Springfield, Ill., March 11.—Secretary of State Stevenson has declined to recognize the disavowal by Colonel Theodore Roosevelt of candidates who have filed petitions expressing Roosevelt preference, on the ground that the disavowal was not a properly executed instrument.

Air Defense Agitator Wins Election.

MAY ASK CONGRESS TO RAISE ARMY

President May Lay Entire Affair
Before Lawmakers.

Washington, March 11.—Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson said:

"Should an emergency arise that would make necessary further action by the president, he will go to congress and lay the entire situation before it. He then will ask for authority to raise a volunteer army to supplement the efforts of the regular army in coping with the situation."

Senator McCumber, Republican, of North Dakota, introduced a resolution in the senate providing that congress shall direct the president to send an armed force into Mexico immediately "to hunt and destroy" murdering bands guilty of atrocities against American citizens.

While the senate was talking and some desultory speeches were being made in the house, the president acted, and the leaders, notified quickly by telephone from the White House, passed the word around. It spread quickly, but both house and senate received it as coolly as an announcement of the passage of a routine bill. The Democrats generally expressed the opinion that the president's action was wholly justified, and the Republicans who have been urging action expressed gratification that it had been taken. There was no sign of dissension.

Do Things Worth While.

Spend not your time in that which profits not; for your labor and your health, your time and your studies, are very valuable; and it is a thousand pities to see a diligent and hopeful person spend himself in gathering cockle-shells and little pebbles, in telling tales upon the shores, and making garlands of useless daisies.—Jeremy Taylor.

All to the Good.

He was suddenly somewhat smitten by a recognition of some good quality in the woman. Perhaps, after all, he had been a bit hard upon her. So, with a touch of repentance, he said: "She wouldn't be so bad—if she had any education—and some breeding—and was better looking—and knew how to dress at all." It is, of course, these little touches that count.

The Census.

The Constitution requires a general census every ten years. The first was taken in 1790. The cost of taking this census is paid by the United States government, not by the state governments. The separate states may, of course, take state censuses on their own account, for which they must pay out of their own treasuries.

REGRET TENDENCY TO TALK TOO MUCH

Many Would Let President Handle Foreign Relations.

CONGRESSMEN MUST SPEAK

Impossible to Suppress Expressions of Opinions and Publication of the News—No One Wants War, but There Are Many Different Views as to How to Avoid It.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, March 11.—[Special.] It appears to be the fashion to deplore the fact that discussion of our foreign relations broke out in congress and that different members of congress uttered resolutions on the subject.

The advocates of complete silence by congress on the subject would also have the newspapers and public speakers refrain from comments upon foreign affairs as they relate to the welfare and interest of the people of the United States.

Of course it is impossible to keep the newspapers from printing the news when they get it and making comments when they feel so inclined. And while it is generally possible to bottle up a great many congressmen there are others who are bound to have their say, and many of them feel warranted in criticizing the administration even in its dealing with foreign nations.

"Letting Off Steam"

It is also a favorite expression on the part of some statesmen to say that senators and members who open up foreign affairs are "letting off steam." That may be true, but it is a good thing just the same. Free expression of opinion on these subjects affords a clearer view of the whole situation and also affords a closer view of the manner in which the government is dealing with the complex questions that have arisen.

Do Not Want War.

The discussion in congress during the past few or ten days has developed the fact that a majority of the members of both houses are earnestly opposed to war and will not do anything to get this nation embroiled in war if they can have their own way and support their own convictions. It is with some show of horror that the jingoists ask if we were to abandon American citizens to their fate who take passage on armed merchantmen, knowing that they may be torpedoed.

And the answer, that if such folks want to take that risk they should not be allowed to involve the country in the world war, has been received with applause in some quarters.

The temper of congress honestly expressed is that neither the government nor individuals should do anything to provoke hostilities and force the country into the war.

Clark and One Term.

"If Champ Clark had been nominated on a one term platform there would be no question about his candidacy for another term. Champ would have long ago proclaimed his adhesion to the one term plank."

The remark was made by one of the closest friends of the speaker, and it caused a query as to just what Bryan thought of his past performances in the present situation. The opinion was expressed that if Bryan had not defeated Clark at Baltimore he might now have a clear field for the nomination himself if he so desired.

Rules of the Senate.

After the Gore resolution had been laid on the table there were hours of debate on the merits of the resolution. Finally Senator Kern, the Democratic leader, took the floor, beginning thus:

"Under the rules of general parliamentary law a motion to lay on the table when carried cuts off debate. It will be observed that under the antiquated rules of this venerable body the practical function of a motion to lay on the table is to encourage, promote and stimulate debate, limited only by the lung power and physical endurance of the participants."

"School of Conversation."

"We have had a week of hard work," remarked the veteran Senator Gallinger one Saturday after a week of fruitless discussion, "and it seems to me that it might be well for this school of conversation to adjourn about this time."

On that same day Shafer of Colorado attempted to speed up matters in the senate. "I think we ought to have a vote on this amendment," he said in regard to one of the many offered to the water power bill.

"The senator has spoken four times on this amendment," retorted Poindexter of Washington, "and now he wants a vote."

"I do not talk more than a minute or two," said Shafer, "while the senator from Washington has been up quite a long while."

"But I have not an opportunity to say anything," remarked Poindexter.

Helping Mandell.

Mandell of Wyoming had offered an amendment to an appropriation bill, and Rucker of Missouri took the floor.

"The only reason I oppose this amendment," said Rucker, "is because I think by opposing it I may help the gentleman from Wyoming in getting it carried."

Education Is a Big Thing.

Education is a grand good thing. Before she went away to school Virginia Featheringham called her mother-in-law. Now she refers to her as "the mother."—Topeka Capital.

There is a Real Difference

Cream of tartar, derived from grapes, is used in Royal Baking Powder because it is the best and most healthful ingredient known for the purpose.

Phosphate and alum, which are derived from mineral sources, are used in some baking powders, instead of cream of tartar, because they are cheaper.

If you have been induced to use baking powders made from alum or phosphate, use Royal Baking Powder instead. You will be pleased with the results and the difference in the quality of the food.

Facts Versus Fallacies

FACT is a real state of things. FALLACY is an apparently genuine but really illogical statement or argument.

A COMMISSION of the Norway Parliament, debating whether a Prohibition law was expedient, or could be enforced if passed, has voted an unmistakable "no." For three years this Commission investigated the liquor question, part of which study was made into legislative and other conditions affecting the alcoholic beverage business in the United States. At the end of the three years' patient and analytic study the Commission of Norway's Parliament gave a vote of 8 to 1 against Prohibition!

THIS Commission consisted of nine members. The majority report, signed by six members, advised against Prohibition of the import and manufacture of Liquors that are subjected to the same rigid laws now in Sweden, and in accordance with what is known as the Bradske System. The sale of liquors by this system is subjected to the most rigid limitations. The majority report also favors the Swedish system for the sale of beer, in accord with which beer, below 2 1/2 per cent. alcohol by weight, is sold free of restrictions.

THE significance of the Commission's work is apparent. Selected by the Parliament of Norway, nine representative and learned men spent three years studying the claims of "dry" agitators, weighing the FALLACIES not only of Norwegian Prohibitionists, but the unprovable claims of the "drys" from other countries.

THEN, with the FACTS before them relative to the manufacture, sale and use of alcoholic beverages, the Commission voted, 8 to 1, against Prohibition.

AND this action of the Commission appointed by Norway's Parliament is typical of the trend of thought today on the liquor question. Tested by Prohibition FALLACIES men accepted as truth the mass of hysterical utterances foisted by the "drys." But by educating the Public to the FACTS in the case (and this series of articles is doing its share in the work) 8 out of 9 men (as was the case in Norway's Commission) see the utter unwisdom and the absolute futility of Prohibition.

ANCIENT BAGDAD.

Bits About the Enchanted City of the "Arabian Nights."

Immortalized by Haroun-al-Raschid, in the story of the "Arabian Nights," Bagdad, which has a population of about 150,000, was built on the ruins of an ancient Babylonian city dating back to 2000 B. C. Records have been found on ancient bricks establishing its early date.

Ever since the days of Haroun-al-Raschid the Jews have been the leading figures in the commercial world of Bagdad. There are 50,000 of them, with about 8,000 Chaldean or heretic Christians. The remainder of the population is made up of Persians, Turks, Armenians, Arabs and Kurds.

Sindbad the Sailor was born at Bagdad, and all his marvelous adventures begin by his going down the Tigris to Bussorah (the modern Basra).

The city stands on both sides of the Tigris, the two parts being connected by the famous bridge of boats, 221 yards long. A brick wall, five miles in circumference and forty feet high, surrounds Bagdad.

The city contains upward of 100 mosques, though barely twenty of them are in use. The houses generally are old, dirty and ugly outside, but the vaulted ceilings, rich moldings, inland mirrors and massive gildings bring back to the recollection of the traveler "the golden palace of the good Haroun-al-Raschid."

The streets are narrow, crooked, unpaved and dirty, full of ruts and strewn with garbage, which, however, is for the most part removed by dogs, the public scavengers in the east.—Pearson's Weekly.

An Exhilarating Bath.

"Many doctors are now discarding the stronger alcohol in ordering baths," says the Farm and Fireside, "and are prescribing the more agreeable bay rum, which is made in Japan from the distillation of rum and the leaves of the bayberry tree. If you want a pleasant, exhilarating bath use this in dilution with your condition. For bathing the sick it seems to have a longer and more stimulating and tonic effect than whisky or alcohol."

Domestic Joys.

"Whenever Mr. and Mrs. Twobuckle quarrel Mr. Twobuckle threatens to see his lawyer."

"Well, does he ever go to his lawyer?"

"No."

"Why not?"

"I think it's because Mrs. Twobuckle dates him to."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Calling His Bluff.

"I'm awfully sorry that my engagements prevent my attending your charity concert, but I shall be with you in spirit."

"Splendid. And where would you like your spirit to sit? I have tickets here for 100 marks and 10 marks."—Elegante Blaetter.

The Kind.

"There is one class of men who are always ready to help another at a pinch."

"I know. Policemen."—Baltimore American.

KILL AND ROB CASHIER IN MILL

Murderers Wound Second Man and Escape.

GET $3500 IN A SACHEL

Two Highwaymen Hold-Up Worst
Mill Employes in Philadelphia and Steal Pay Roll.

Philadelphia, March 11.—Every available policeman and detective in the city is hunting two bandits who held up, robbed and killed Herman Kestening, paymaster for the Germania Worsteds mills, at Indiana avenue and A street, and wounded Walter Haupt, a clerk, who was acting as escort when the two men were returning to the mill with a satchel containing $3500, wages for the employes.

Haupt is in a critical condition at the Episcopal hospital.

A blood-stained handkerchief found by Detective Geannetti, in an alley near the spot where the murder was committed may go a long way in solving the identity of the two hold-up men.

Several theories are held by the police concerning the handkerchief. One is that the robbers stopped a moment to divide the spoils and fought over a division of the money, and another is that a revolver used in the hold-up contained six bullets, five of which were fired at the paymaster and his assistant, and that the sixth bullet accidentally struck the bandit not doing the actual firing. However, the police have notified every physician and hospital in the city to be on the lookout for any one needing treatment for gunshot wounds.

Kestening and Haupt were held up on the landing of the stairs leading to the office of the Germania Worsteds company, on the third floor. The two employes with the $3500 were about to turn into the office when the two things stealthily crept up behind them and before either could make an outcry a revolver was thrust at them.

Kestening turned and faced the two men, and as he did so he was shot down. Haupt attempted to save the money and then he was shot. Both men reeled into the office, and when the clerks saw what had happened they rushed to the stairway to catch the things, but no one was in sight.

The bandits ran into the street and then turned into Ella street, which leads from Indiana avenue to Clearfield street. They then took refuge in the freight yards of the Pennsylvania railroad, where they boarded a freight train.

Haupt and Kestening got the $3500 at the Ninth National bank at Front and Norris streets. Leaving the bank they boarded a Front and Tioza streets car for the mill. Haupt says no suspicious characters were noticed on the car, but it is assumed by the police that the victims were followed to the mill on another car.

BRITISH WARSHIPS SUNK
Destroyer and Torpedo Boat Are Destroyed by Mine.

London, March 11.—The British torpedo boat destroyer Coquette, and Torpedo Boat No. 11, have been sunk by striking mines off the east coast. It was officially announced.

The casualties were forty-five, an officer and twenty-one men on the Coquette, and three officers and twenty men on the torpedo boat.

The official statement names Lieutenant Vere Seymour, R. N. R., as the Coquette's commander. Lieutenant John A. T. Leigh, R. N., commanded the torpedo boat.

Hen Lays Egg Flying; It Is Caught
Bluefield, W. Va., March 11.—What is believed to be the first time on record of a hen laying an egg in mid-air was the unusual accomplishment of a brown leghorn hen in the express office at Graham. The hen was in a coop of chickens. After the coop had been placed on a truck the brown leghorn escaped and, while flying, dropped a snow white egg into space. John Jones, a colored roustabout, who was pursuing the hen, caught the egg à la Ty Cobb as it dropped.

75 Caught in Detroit Raid.
Detroit, Mich., March 11.—More than seventy-five persons, including several women, were taken in custody in a raid which practically cleared two small hotels of their occupants. It was announced at police headquarters that the raid is the opening gun of a crusade to clear Detroit of a band of alleged gunmen from the east, who, it is said, have made this city their headquarters for several weeks.

And a Little Child Led Them.
Harrisburg, Pa., March 11.—David Goldberg, Pennsylvania railroad interpreter here, and Joseph Nathanson, a Philadelphia interpreter, shook hands after an estrangement of eighteen years. The cause of the reunion was the birth of a grandson to Nathanson and a great-grandson to Goldberg. It was the same boy.

Airmen Shell Givelli; Kill Many.
Athens, March 11.—French aeroplanes bombarded the Bulgarian camp at Givelli, killing and wounding many Bulgarian soldiers.

END LIVES IN SUICIDE PACT

Bodies of Man and Wife Found at Glen Summit by State Troopers.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., March 11.—Ted Freeman and wife, each thirty-five years old, caretakers on the million dollar summer estate of P. M. Kirby, multi-millionaire, ended their lives in a suicide pact by drinking poison. The Kirby summer home is located at Glen Summit.

Their bodies were found after a search of several hours by state troopers, Kirby employes and Allen Kirby, eldest son of the millionaire.

The bodies were on a landing half way up the observation tower. There was nothing to show how the couple came to their death, but a post-mortem conducted by Coroner C. L. Ashley showed that they took poison.

A motive for the suicide pact has not been found. In a book which the couple left, it was discovered that their families had objected to their marriage and that both brooded over the welfare of relatives fighting in Europe.

The Freemans recently came from Canada to take charge of the Kirby estate.

16 Places in Pittsburgh and Vicinity Closed.

Harrisburg, March 11.—Sixteen raids on establishments alleged to be bucket shops were made in Pittsburgh and several western Pennsylvania towns by forty state policemen, acting under the direction of Deputy Attorney General Horace W. Davis, the raids being the first move in what is termed at the capitol to be an effort to clear the state of such places.

The raid has been in preparation for months. Last fall the matter was placed in the hands of Attorney General Brown by Governor Brumbaugh, and Mr. Davis was assigned to the investigation. The warrants were sworn out a few days ago, and Thursday Major John C. Groome, superintendent of state police, placed them in the hands of the troopers, with instructions to serve.

The attorney general's department issued a statement that the places raided were: The Consolidated Stock and Produce Exchange, P. N. Hepp, Harry C. Schaubie, A. J. Cummings & Co., Harry A. Keating, Union Securities company, Rodgers & Co., Pittsburgh; C. L. Reynolds, Sharon; George E. Fisher, Newcastle; W. O. Nosen, George Lane, Oil City; Harry Brown, Indiana; P. Earl Stewart, Joseph A. Campbell, Butler; W. N. Williams, Washington; F. W. Gosh, Youngstown, Westmoreland county.

Husband and Wife Get Award Against Saloonkeeper for Injuries.

Philadelphia, March 11.—A verdict for $4000 was awarded to a woman whose husband was attacked by a saloonkeeper, and who is now suffering from paralysis as a result of the man's act.

The woman, Jennie Waldron, testified that her husband, Matthew, was hurt when ejected from the saloon of Michael O'Donnell, at Twenty-second and Cambria streets, in the fall of 1912.

Waldron spent many weeks in a hospital and his injury resulted in almost complete paralysis. He attended the trial in a wheel chair and is scarcely able to articulate. The bartender denied that he pushed the plaintiff.

Marvelous.

And a Little Child Led Them.
Harrisburg, Pa., March 11.—David Goldberg, Pennsylvania railroad interpreter here, and Joseph Nathanson, a Philadelphia interpreter, shook hands after an estrangement of eighteen years. The cause of the reunion was the birth of a grandson to Nathanson and a great-grandson to Goldberg. It was the same boy.

Airmen Shell Givelli; Kill Many.
Athens, March 11.—French aeroplanes bombarded the Bulgarian camp at Givelli, killing and wounding many Bulgarian soldiers.

Wanted the Usual Thing.
We had a children's party. They were seated around the table being served ice cream and cake. The children were all eating their ice cream with the exception of one little fellow. I went over to him and asked, "Well, John, why don't you begin?" With all seriousness he said: "Why, I'm waiting for my meat and potatoes first."—
